STATE OF OKLAHOMA CLEVELAND COUNT

In the office of the Court Clerk MARIEYN WILLIAMS

Defendants.

TEVA DEFENDANTS' AND ACTAVIS DEFENDANTS' GENERAL MOTION IN LIMINE #1

Pursuant to the Court's Supplemental Scheduling Order requiring that the parties submit individual motions in limine, Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. ("Teva USA"), Cephalon, Inc. ("Cephalon"), Watson Laboratories, Inc. ("Watson"), Actavis LLC ("Actavis LLC"), and Actavis Pharma, Inc. ("Actavis Pharma")¹ submit this and nine other such motions. For ease of reference, the motions are numbered in sequential order.

¹ Cephalon and Teva USA are referred to as the "Teva Defendants." Watson, Actavis, LLC, and Actavis Pharma are referred to as the "Actavis Defendants."

INTRODUCTION

The number of limine motions is necessary in this case despite the fact that it will be tried to the Court and not a jury. Because the trial will be televised and is sure to attract nationwide press coverage and attention, the Court is far from its only audience. Over 1,500 similar lawsuits have been filed against the Teva and Actavis Defendants throughout the country. Evidence admitted at this trial could well reach—and influence—potential jurors in these other cases. Indeed, various Oklahoma cities, counties, and tribes have filed suit separately and asserted claims that will be tried to a jury in this state. Thus, it is essential that the rules of evidence be applied as diligently in this case as in any jury trial.

Further, the motions in limine are required to prevent the State from utilizing this Court's courtroom to stage a public relations attack on Defendants. To be clear, the State will use these televised proceedings as a vehicle to achieve objectives having nothing to do with its remaining claim in this case, i.e., namely to embarrass and harass Defendants. To prevent the courtroom and these proceedings from being hijacked in that manner, the Teva and Actavis Defendants respectfully ask that the Court enter the requested motions in limine and limit the trial to only the evidence and conduct it should contain under the law and under the rules of this Court.

ARGUMENT AND AUTHORITIES

The Teva and Actavis Defendants move this Court to preclude the State from referring to or otherwise offering at trial, information or evidence in any form (whether through direct or cross-examination, expert testimony or through exhibits of any type) and from presenting to the jury in any manner (whether in opening statements, questions to witnesses or experts, objections, closing arguments, or otherwise) the following:

A. EVIDENCE REGARDING THE STATE OPIOID COMMISSION

The January 23, 2018 "Oklahoma Commission on Opioid Abuse Final Report" (the "Report"), and statements regarding the Commission that created it, must be excluded as irrelevant, unfairly prejudicial, and inadmissible hearsay. The Report and the Commission that created it have been referenced in several of the depositions and hearings. For example, the State pointed to it repeatedly in the January 22, 2019 deposition of Alan Must, Vice President of Government Affairs for Purdue Pharma, LP, to baselessly allege that Defendants have ignored opportunities for positive involvement in mitigating the opioid epidemic in Oklahoma. Must Dep. (1/22/2019) at 31:2-25; 32:12-35:10; 311:19-313:23, Exhibit 1. The State attempted to make the same point again when it brought up the Report, and the Commission that created it, during the April 11, 2019 Hearing on Severance. Apr. 11, 2019 Hr'g Tr. 35:21-37:8, Exhibit 2.

First, the Report is unrelated to the Teva and Actavis Defendants' conduct in the State of Oklahoma and has no bearing on whether the Teva and Actavis Defendants' conduct created a public nuisance. As such, the Report is remote and collateral to the issues in this trial, and no reasonable inference about any relevant issues can be drawn from it. See 12 O.S. §§ 2401, 2402. Second, evidence like the Report that is proffered solely to garner sympathy from the fact finder, or which carries the potential for an inappropriate appeal to the Court's sympathy, is properly excluded at trial, even if found to be relevant. See Thompson v. State Farm Fire & Cas. Co., 34 F.3d 932, 939-40 (10th Cir. 1994). Even if this Court were to find the Report relevant, it should be excluded because its probative value, if any, is substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice to the Teva and Actavis Defendants. See 12 O.S. § 2403. "The court has not only the discretion but also the duty to exclude evidence of little or no relevance or probative value which might have a prejudicial effect." Security State Bank v. Baty, 439 F.2d 910, 913 (10th Cir. 1971); Chesapeake Operating Inc. v. Kast Tr. Farms, 2015 OK CIV APP 5, ¶ 43, 352

P.3d 1231, 1240 ("The court must seek a balance of probative value and potential prejudice on the facts of each case."). And third, the Report is inadmissible hearsay, as it contains unsworn, out-of-court statements offered to prove the truth of the matter asserted. See 12 O.S. § 2802. Thus, the Report, and references to the Commission that created it, must be excluded.

B. EVIDENCE REGARDING THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION ON COMBATING DRUG ADDICTION AND THE OPIOID CRISIS

On November 1, 2017, the President's Commission on Combating Drug Addiction and the Opioid Crisis issued its report. This report, its recommendations, and any remarks by or regarding the commission who created it, are inadmissible for the reasons cited in Part II.A. relating to the Oklahoma Opioid Commission.

C. EVIDENCE REGARDING DEFENDANTS' OUT-OF-STATE CONDUCT

This Court should also prohibit any evidence regarding out-of-state conduct by these Defendants. The Motion of Defendants for Judicial Notice Pursuant to 12 O.S. § 2201 that Any Reliance by the State on Defendants' Out-of-State Marketing Conduct to Prove Violations of Oklahoma Law is Unconstitutional, filed on April 23, 2019, is attached as Exhibit 3 and is incorporated here. As shown in the Notice, it is unconstitutional for the State of Oklahoma to regulate Defendants' conduct in this trial based on conduct occurring in another state. Further, allegations of conduct in other states are irrelevant. Because the State cannot regulate Defendants' out-of-state conduct, that conduct is irrelevant and should be excluded from trial.

In particular, allegations of marketing activity, either branded or unbranded, should be excluded where there is no showing that the marketing materials or representations were distributed or published in Oklahoma. See 12 O.S. §§ 2401, 2402. Further, allegations of misrepresentations for the purpose of increasing sales of opioid medicines should be excluded from trial where there is no actual evidence showing those alleged misrepresentations were relied upon by a person in the State of Oklahoma. Id.

D. REFERENCES TO ALLEGEDLY FALSE REPRESENTATIONS NOT IDENTIFIED IN INTERROGATORY RESPONSES

In their interrogatories, Defendants asked the State to identify the alleged false representations by Defendants on which its claim is based. See, e.g., Teva's Second Set of Interrogs. (8/8/18), Nos. 8, 9; Cephalon's Second Set of Interrogs. (4/17/18), Nos. 5, 8 and 15; Actavis LLC's First Set of Interrogs. (8/8/18), Nos. 5, 13; Actavis Pharma Inc.'s First Set of Interrogs. (8/8/18), No. 5 and 13, collectively attached as Exhibit 4. Defendants took discovery and prepared their defense in reliance on the information provided by the State in its sworn interrogatory responses. The State should not be permitted to ambush Defendants at trial with previously undisclosed "false representations." The Court should prohibit any suggestion that any advertisement or other representation of a Defendant was false unless the State identified that statement as false in its interrogatory responses.

E. STATISTICS REGARDING OPIOID DEATHS THAT INCLUDE DATA RELATING TO DRUGS THAT WERE ILLEGALLY ACQUIRED

The State may seek to introduce statistics regarding deaths resulting from opioid use. These statistics do not differentiate between deaths linked to Defendants' legal medications and those related to illegal drug use. Any evidence (statistical or otherwise) that conflates Defendants' legal products and unrelated illegal products is inadmissible under 12 O.S. § 2403. Although this is a bench trial, the televised nature of the trial presents a serious risk of prejudice not present in other non-jury proceedings. The Court knows Defendants are not liable for unconnected criminal conduct involving illegal drugs, but the public (and potential jurors in other cases) may not make this distinction. Injecting this flawed, unsubstantiated evidence into the public domain would unfairly prejudice Defendants. Any limited probative value of this type of evidence clearly is significantly outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice it presents.

F. REFERENCES TO OPIOIDS AS "GATEWAY DRUGS"

The State likes to assert that prescription opioids are a "gateway drug" to heroin. This statement is based on unreliable statistics and is highly inflammatory. Further, the State has identified no evidence that the lawful, prescribed use by any patient in Oklahoma of any of the Teva or Actavis Defendants' prescription opioids led that patient to heroin use. Any relevance is substantially outweighed by the unfair prejudice caused by linking Defendants' legal medications to an illegal drug. This reference should be excluded under 12 O.S. § 2403.

G. HEARSAY STATEMENTS OF ALLEGED CO-CONSPIRATORS

The State may seek to introduce out-of-court statements by other drug manufacturers as evidence against Defendants. These statements are inadmissible hearsay. See 12 O.S. § 2802. The State may claim the statements fall within the "co-conspirator exception" to the hearsay rule, i.e., 12 O.S. § 2801(B)(2)(e). The exception applies only to statements that are made by a co-conspirator of a party (1) during the course of a conspiracy, and (2) in furtherance of the conspiracy. Id. To make this showing, the party offering the statement must first make establish a prima facie case of conspiracy from other sources. See Dill v. Rader, 1978 OK 78, 583 P.2d 496, 498. The Court should require the State to make this showing at a bench conference (or when the television cameras are off) prior to introducing or referring to any alleged co-conspirator statements at trial.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Teva Defendants and Actavis Defendants ask that the Court grant this Motion in Limine and instruct the State and all counsel not to mention, refer to, interrogate about, or attempt to convey in any manner, either directly or indirectly, any of these matters, and further instruct the State and all counsel to warn and caution each of their witnesses to follow the same instructions.

2	did your brothers in this case, did they do anything
3	wrong? Don't know. Not going to talk about it. How

5	Zero. Don't know. Not going to talk about it. Not a
6	witness has ever said that they bore any responsibility.
7	And with all due respect to these guys, it's absolutely
8	relevant to the question that you started today off
9	with. That's why I spent so much time on it. The right
10	to a jury trial is pretty important, as Your Honor and I
11	knows. I don't know why we wouldn't want to have a full
12	record.
13	Let me tell you where it comes in abatement.
14	We'll go right to the law and we'll be done. J&J, we
15	asked their head lobby guy Your Honor could see that
16	but I'll just tell you what it says. We asked him what
17	they had done in the state. And for years this guy was
18	paid to be a lobbyist and hired to be a lobbyist in the
19	state to go to every aspect of the state that dealt with
20	opioids.
21	So General Hunter, as you may know and I'm
22	sure you read, convened the opioid commission here in
23	the state which was a very broad and sweeping effort
24	that involved public and private sector. It involved
25	republicans and democrats and independents. He asked

I

1 all the thought leaders in the state to convene. And we had folks from doctors to the press to Commissioner 2 3 White were involved to get in and say here's what the problem is -- law enforcement, everybody -- what do we 4 do, what should we do? Everyone is invited, most of 5 6 these meetings were public. I went to some of them. Ιt 7 came out of that that I think six or seven bills went 8 through the legislature last year. All of them were 9 passed. It was an effort by the state to deal with this 10 The defendants didn't show up. problem. There are 11 lobbyists that were paid, lobbyists on staff that were 12 -- could have been there to say let us do our part to 13 help solve this problem in Oklahoma. They didn't go. 14 They refused to participate. Now, they have spent 15 collectively, when you add Purdue into it, 50- to $100 million a year on lobbyists, including one they all 16 17 participated in called Pharma, to lobby and lobby to get more available or more availability for their drugs in 18 To have wider prescription and to fight 19 the state. 20 against any restrictions that could be put in place that 21 could help deal with this problem. But when the time 22 came to deal with it in the state they cut and ran. And 23 with J&J, they literally cut and ran. They got rid of Noramco and they got rid of their Nucynta business. 24 25 They didn't want to have a seat at the table to fix the problem. So are we saying that stuff because we want to 1 2 say it? No. I'm saying it because it comes back to the law. This is a case where we've got the worst public 3 health crisis in modern history. In Oklahoma, you've 4 heard General Hunter say it, people are dying every day. 5 Someone that -- the folks at this table that deal with 6 7 it every day and love just lost somebody two days ago to 8 an opioid overdose.

It's real, it's urgent, and it's got to be 9 10 fixed, and they're not going to do it. So the law of 11 the State of Oklahoma recognizes that in equity, sometimes there comes conditions that are so bad that 12 13 you have to have a judge intervene and do something about it. And that's what we're asking Your Honor to 14 do. It's a burden on you. It's going to be a lot of 15 16 pressure on you, but it's what has to be done. So how 17 do you do it? I can read you dozens of cases. I don't want to waste your time. There are dozens upon dozens 18 This thing that J&J put in its brief, there's 19 of cases. 20 a reason why Teva didn't do it and J & J did. Teva 21 knows it's not correct. Case No. CJ-2017-816 Honorable Thad Balkman

William C. Hetherington Special Discovery Master

> STATE OF OKLAHOMA CLEVELAND COUNTY

FILED

APR 16 2019

In the office of the Court Clerk MARILYN WILLIAMS

MOTION OF DEFENDANTS WATSON LABORATORIES, INC., ACTAVIS LLC, ACTAVIS PHARMA, INC., CEPHALON, INC., AND TEVA PHARMACEUTICALS USA, INC. FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE PURSUANT TO 12 O.S. § 2201

MOTION

At the April 11, 2019 Hearing on the Generic Manufacturers'¹ Motion for Partial Summary

Judgment, the State argued that Oklahoma's public nuisance law does not require an unlawful act or omission. This is contrary to Oklahoma law and, frankly, common sense. Oklahoma law defines a "Nuisance":

¹ Watson Laboratories, Inc., Actavis Pharma, Inc., Actavis LLC, and Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. (pre-2011).

"A nuisance consists of unlawfully doing an act, or omitting to perform a duty, which act or omission . . . [causes the harms specified in $\S1$]."

50 O.S. § 1 (emphasis added). This Court should interpret that provision according to the plain language passed by the Legislature: that a public nuisance can be found only where a defendant acted or omitted to perform a duty "unlawfully." The State's request that this Court ignore the word "unlawfully" —based on counsel's interpretation of a century-old North Dakota case and an inapposite case from California—should be soundly rejected.

Accordingly, pursuant to 12 O.S. § 2201, Defendants Watson Laboratories, Inc., Actavis LLC, and Actavis Pharma, Inc. (collectively the "Actavis Generic Defendants"), and Cephalon, Inc. and Teva Pharmaceuticals USA, Inc. (collectively the "Teva Defendants"), move this Court to take judicial notice of 50 O.S. § 1 and its requirement that the State must prove, among other things, an unlawful act by each Defendant to succeed on its public nuisance claim.

BRIEF IN SUPPORT

INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

The statutory command of 12 O.S. 1991 § 2201 obligates this Court to take judicial notice of the common law, constitutions and public statutes. This is not merely a rule of practice which may be relaxed when the public interest demands. The mandatory^{II}duty to take judicial notice of public statutes may extend to any stage of a proceeding. . . . Matters of health care are of special public importance and subject to this Court's review as matters of publici juris.

Petition of Univ. Hosps. Auth., 1997 OK 162, ¶ 3, 953 P.2d 314, 324 (Kauger, C.J. concurring) (footnotes omitted) (emphasis original); see also Keota Mills & Elevator v. Gamble, 2010 OK 12, ¶ 9, 243 P.3d 1156, 1158 b ("we cannot ignore applicable, controlling law" (citing 12 O.S. § 2201)).

At the April 11, 2019 hearing, the State misrepresented the requirements of a statutory claim for public nuisance under Oklahoma law. Contrary to the State's representation, the public nuisance statute in Oklahoma clearly and expressly requires an "unlawful" act or omission.² This Court should take judicial notice of the same, pursuant to the mandate of 12 O.S. § 2201, to avoid a needless and inefficient dispute for purposes of resolving forthcoming summary judgment motions and at trial.³ Failure to take judicial notice constitutes reversible error. Morgan v. State ex rel. Dep't of Pub. Safety, 1993 OK CIV APP 8, 882 P.2d 574, 575 (reversing and remanding to trial court for failure to take requested judicial notice of law).

ARGUMENT AND AUTHORITY

NUISANCE REQUIRES AN UNLAWFUL ACT OR OMISSION

As defined by statute, "[a] nuisance consists in unlawfully doing an act, or omitting to perform a duty" 50 O.S. § 1 (emphasis added). The Oklahoma Legislature's inclusion of the word "unlawful" was not surplusage: "For an act or omission to be a nuisance in Oklahoma, it must be unlawful." Nuncio v. Rock Knoll Townhome Vill., Inc., 2016 OK CIV APP 83, ¶ 8, 389 P.3d 370, 374 (citing 50 O.S. § 1) (emphasis added) (holding that smoking inside private condominium residence was not a violation of any law and therefore did not constitute a public or private nuisance). Compare Abraham v. Trail Lanes, Inc., 2014 OK CIV APP 107, ¶ 13, 352 P.3d

² Twin Hills Golf & Country Club, Inc. v. Town of Forest Park, 2005 OK 71, ¶ 6, 123 P.3d 5, 6-7 ("Where the language of a statute is plain and unambiguous, legislative intent and the meaning of the statute will be gleaned from the face of the statute without resort to judicial rules of statutory construction."); United Design Corp. v. Oklahoma Tax Comm'n, 1997 OK 43, ¶ 27, 942 P.2d 725, 730, as corrected (June 19, 1997).

³ Taking judicial notice means only that we may dispense with proof of some norm of state and federal law--common, constitutional, or statutory law-of which the court may be advised sans proof. The terms of 12 O.S.1991 § 2201(A) require us to take "judicial notice" of law that is invoked in the adversary process. The terms of § 2201(A) are:

[&]quot;Judicial notice shall be taken by the court of the common law, constitutions and public statutes in force in every state, territory and jurisdiction of the United States."

Lewis v. Sac & Fox Tribe of Oklahoma Hous. Auth., 1994 OK 20, 896 P.2d 503, 512 n.60. Moreover, "[j]udicial notice may be taken at any stage of the proceeding." 12 O.S. § 2203(C).

1256, 1262 (affirming summary judgment on nuisance claim against owner of bowling alley where murder occurred because the plaintiff failed to show the owner "acted unlawfully") and Insurance Company of North America v. Sheinbein, 1971 OK 110, ¶ 6, 488 P.2d 1273, (holding a grass fire which escaped onto a neighbor's land was not a nuisance under 50 O.S. § 1, because it was not "unlawful" as losing control of the grass fire did not violate the relevant statute) with Tosco Corp. v. Koch Indus., Inc., 216 F.3d 886, 895 (10th Cir. 2000) (finding polluting groundwater to be requisite "unlawful act" because "[t]he pollution of any Oklahoma waters, including groundwater, has been prohibited by state statute since the early 1900s") and State ex rel. Field v. Hess, 1975 OK 123, 540 P.3d 1165, 1169 (finding requisite "unlawful act" where materials sold by adult bookstore were obscene in violation of Oklahoma obscenity statute).

Doing something legal, like manufacturing FDA-approved medicines that were later prescribed in Oklahoma, cannot form the basis of a public nuisance claim under Oklahoma law. Indeed, the State recognized that an "unlawful" act or omission was a required element of its statutory public nuisance claim and pled it in its Petition. See Pet. ¶ 119 ("Defendants' misrepresentations and omissions regrading opioids constitute unlawful acts and/or omissions of duties[.]") (emphasis added). The State changed course, however, in response to the Generic Manufacturers' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment and argued at the April 11, 2019 hearing that this Court should ignore the Oklahoma Legislature's inclusion in the public nuisance statute of the word "unlawfully" and, accordingly, that Oklahoma's nuisance law does not require an unlawful act or omission.⁴ This is not and cannot be the law of Oklahoma.

⁴ To the contrary, a nuisance claim expressly requires "unlawfully doing an act." 50 O.S. § 1. See also Cities Serv. Oil Co. v. Merritt, 1958 OK 185, 332 P.2d 677, 684 ("A nuisance consists in unlawfully doing an act, or omitting to perform a duty, which act or omission either: Annoys, injures or endangers the comfort, repose, health or safety of others; or, in any way renders other persons insecure in life or in the use of property." (internal quotation marks omitted)).

First, the State reliance on Winningham v. Rice, 1955 OK 108, 282 P.2d 742, 744 for this proposition is misplaced. There the Oklahoma Supreme Court affirmed an injunction preventing the defendant from extending salvage operations into an unzoned portion of its property, and storing vehicles for longer 30 days or greater than 25 in number. In doing so, the Court recognized only that a salvage business was "of itself lawful"—not that operating it in that location, and in that manner, was also lawful. Id. And, in affirming the lower court's holding and issuance of the injunction, the Court recognized that operating the salvage yard contrary to the parameters of the injunction was in fact unlawful and thus constituted a nuisance. Id. (recognizing injunction "did not prevent defendant from using said area for any lawful purpose" (emphasis added); "injunction ordinarily should be limited, not to the business, itself, but to the [unlawful] usage that creates the nuisance, leaving the right to carry on the business in a proper and lawful manner" (emphasis added)). Moreover, Winningham, the cases it relies on, and subsequent cases following it make clear that public nuisance claims have been limited to interference with the use of real property.⁵

Second, the State's unprecedented interpretation of nuisance law would obliterate all bounds limiting its reach, thereby violating basic principles of due process. The State alleges that it is the "opioid epidemic in Oklahoma that constitutes a public nuisance." Pet. ¶ 118. If, under the State's interpretation, any lawful act or omission contributing to the opioid epidemic leads to nuisance liability, then all manner of individuals would become liable for the alleged nuisance, as the State has defined it. This would include prescribers writing lawful prescriptions, the State's Drug Utilization Review Board, patients taking medicines as directed, and private and public insurers, among all manner of other lawful actors. Such an expansive reading—seeking to hold companies (and potentially others) responsible for billions in damages for entirely lawful conduct—would not only violate the clear and express language of the statute, it would transgress constitutional due process principles.

The Court therefore should decline the State's invitation to ignore the clear direction of the Oklahoma Legislature that an unlawful act or omission is a required element that the State must prove to succeed on its public nuisance claim.

CONCLUSION

Pursuant to 12 O.S. § 2201, this Court should take judicial notice of the statutory and common-law element of nuisance law: the requirement of an unlawful act or omission.
