Re: Schoolcraft v. City of New York, et al

Your Honor:

We write now to inform the Court that we have been relieved as counsel for plaintiff Adrian Schoolcraft. At the moment, no new counsel has been appointed, and we are not certain whether or not plaintiff intends to retain new counsel, or instead, proceed pro se.

In the interim, plaintiff has requested that we provide him with all of his files relating to this civil action. Under normal circumstances, we would readily comply with such a request. However, in light of the Attorneys Eyes Only protective order, we seek guidance from the Court as to whether or not we may provide plaintiff with records which have previously been designated "Attorneys Eyes Only." It will be recalled that during our last conference, on November 7, 2012, the Court had directed the parties to explore the possibility of allowing plaintiff to have access to certain records which had previously been designated as "Attorneys Eyes Only." However, since we were relieved as counsel for plaintiff, no such agreement was ever reached.

Based on the foregoing, we respectfully request that the Court issue an Order authorizing us to send plaintiff Adrian Schoolcraft all of his files or, in the alternative, designating which records may be sent to plaintiff at this time.

*Counsel is relieved and may provide plaintiff with all records other than those designated "Attorneys Eyes Only" from which will be retained pending further proceedings. So ordered. Sweet

We thank the Court for consideration of this request.

Respectfully submitted,

Jon L. Norinsberg, Esq.
